The Old Blues from London.

Once more we extend to our visitors a real Christmas welcome. The former pupils of Christ's Hospital—the Blue Coat School, have been our Boxing Day opponents for over 30 years. The Old Blues have always served up the carefree football suitable to the Festive Season. They are having quite a good season and will no doubt extend us today. P. C. Delight will be remembered as the Middlesex and England Trials threequarter.

The Laws of our game.

On Tuesday, January 13th at 8.15 p.m. in the Clubhouse, our Club Captain, John Roberts will lead a discussion on the "Laws of the game". Players, officials and interested members are invited to make a special effort to attend. Do come along, perhaps you may learn something!

Do YOU know ?

What is the minimum number of players to constitute a line-out ?

For how many offences may a "free kick" be awarded ?

What constitutes a tackle ?

What are the duties of a Touch Judge ?

Many players and spectators imagine there is a law which prohibits passing from the ground. No such law exists !

Fred. Book.

Fred. Book is making a good recovery after a minor operation on his leg. He played his first game for the Bath premier XV. versus the Old Blues on Boxing Day, 1953 having been spotted playing for Walcot Old Boys by our loyal friend Tommy Hicks.

Last year this time.

December 26th, 1956, Bath 20 pts., Old Blues 3 pts.

Next Saturday, December 28th, 1957

BATH v. LONDON IRISH
