Welcome

There must be no harder way to start a League programme than with a local derby game and Sky Sports should be paying extra royalties for this their first LIVE game. Let's hope the gatemen recognise the new Sky presenter!

Bristol come to the Rec full of confidence to secure their first Courage victory over their neighbours after eight defeats in Division One.

Bristol finished last season in fourth place, their highest ever in the competition, but Captain Derek Eves – in his fifth season at the helm – has promised better things this season.

Supporters who were here at the Rec last Saturday for the game against the Barbarians will have already seen Paul Hull and Kyran Bracken in action but today it will be back to their usual positions of full back and scrum half respectively.

Hull, the Bristol vice captain, who set the England tour to South Africa alight, needs just one point for 300 points for the Bristol 1st XV.

Tighthead prop David Hinkins will be making his 50th League appearance for the club, he's asked me not to mention his other record today – something to do with try starvation!

The Bristol coach has listed his three danger sides, in this order, Leicester, Wasps and Bath. This is game number 205 between the two sides and Bristol are aiming for win number 51 away from home.

Enjoy the action and the post match drink!
