Welcome

WELCOME TO ORRELL

TODAY sees a rare event in these days of Courage League rugby, a friendly between two teams from League 1. Orrell are well known at the Rec as tough and gritty competitors and Edge Hall Road is famed for its hospitality. Bath in spite of the many calls on the players remain undefeated this season in League, Cup and friendly matches so it would be a feather in Orrell's cap if they could go one better than the draw in the League.

The Orrell "scribe" Jerry Nestor described the Bath supporters as being among the most knowledgeable in the country so let's hope that appellation remains valid today. We look forward to meeting any Orrell supporters who have made the long journey south, Bath in spring can be a pretty sight. On the subject of spectators I must make it known that the Gloucester fans in my vicinity last week were charming, courteous and fair.

Orrell have some exciting young runners in Austin Healey, Jim Naylor and Ian Wynn and I hope they are in the team today to give some of our young players a testing time. Orrell are one of four teams contesting the mid table and could end up anywhere from 4th to 7th, their next match is against Bristol, that promises to be an intriguing game. Their best ever League position is 2nd, in 91-92 (on points difference behind Bath) and in the Cup they have been semi finalists four times. What would they give to turn one of those into a Cup Final appearance? Orrell are the foremost club in Lancashire and fly the Union flag in an area traditionally favouring Rugby League and Football. Good luck to them!
