To-day, the Bath United XV. commence activities, the first since before the War, and we welcome to the Rec. the Cleve XV. We sincerely hope they will have an enjoyable game with us and we shall look forward to playing the return game on their ground on 30th November.

The United XV. playing this afternoon is an experimental one and no doubt other players will be tried out to enable the strongest XV. to be picked.

The trial, held on Wednesday, produced some very good form, and the selectors have made a careful note of those players who showed definite rigger promise and, while not in to-day's team, will no doubt get a chance at a later date.

We are pleased to see Austin Higgins is having a game to-day and we shall look forward to seeing him regularly in the First XV.
