A COLT'S XV.

The announcement made by the Bath Club last week that it is intended to run a "Colts XV." next season will be received with great pleasure, as there is not much doubt about it the Club's best playing record was during the period when they had the old "Extras" team as their third string. This meant, as it should mean again, that there were at least another fifteen reserves for the Firsts and United, and the consequence was there was not so much difficulty in filling vacancies in these sides.

It will be presumed that the Colts will take over a good many of the fixtures at present on the United's list, and that in due course the United will have a stronger set of fixtures than at present.

On their showing this season the United deserve this. The writer has seen every match played by them this season with the exception of that at Yeovil, and says without fear of contradiction that they have not played a really poor game yet. Allowances must, of course, be made for the conditions under which some of the games have been played. But I am not the only one who has seen all the games on the "Rec." and I am sure no one can honestly say they have seen anything but really good games when the United have been home.

Conditions last week, when Yeovil were the visitors, were very bad, but the football was excellent throughout. A similar game to-day will please spectators to the utmost.

BOB BALL.

It was most regrettable that that great stalwart the popular Bob Ball met with a nasty injury in the game last week. What Bob lacks in inches he makes up in every other possible way. A great favourite with both players and spectators, everybody will join with me in wishing him a speedy recovery.
