NOTES.

Welcome Bath! You open our 1949-50 season with a team worthy of our steel. We notice tried and well-known names in your team, O'Shaughnessy, an old favourite for one. We commiserate on the absence of your Captain but know Lewis will act more than adequately in his place.

Our own team will meet you with confidence. Moule, our captain, knows his job. Coleman is still our safe rearguard and our attack promises to give him a minimum of work. The forwards you have met before, with the exception of Wickens. We know you will join us in giving him a warm welcome. The backs are still the aggressive combination they have been before.

The season opens then with an attractive match and a list of attractive fixtures supported by an enthusiastic crowd. To that crowd is imparted the knowledge that Season Tickets can be obtained now from Jack Baker at the Turnstiles, or at his Office in Locking Road.
